THE PHARISEE—"OH, LOOK AT THAT PATCH!"—Chicago Herald.

TERRIBLE

Many Villages Destroyed By Forest Fires.

The Number of Dead Will Probably Reach Five Hundred.—At Hinckley, Minn., Some Three Hundred Were Victims Terrible Scenes and Experiences.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Sept. 3.—Only the horrors which accompanied the historic Chicago fire can be cited to compare with the terrible scenes and experiences in the flame-swept pine region of Pine, Kankakee and Carroll counties, Minn., and Burnett county, Wis. At least 400 settlers their families and others were burned to death, or suffocated before the flames reached them, and the dead list may reach another hundred or more. The people of Hinckley, which was a prosperous town in Pine county sixty years ago southwest of Duluth, are now dead or homeless and destitute. At a conservative estimate two hundred and fifty men, women and children of this doomed town were made to escape from the merciless, swiftly advancing sheets of flame. They fell on the railroad tracks or on the old territorial road, either to be cremated or die the more merciful death from suffocation by the clouds of dense smoke and heat-laden atmosphere. The number of corpses already recovered from the blackened waste at and around what was Hinckley is 150, the majority being women and children who had not the strength to fight their destroyer or escape by fleeing to a place of safety.

So far as can be learned at this time from the devastated district, the following towns have been destroyed and the following are dead in numbers:

Hinckley, Minn., 1,300 to 1,300 inhabitants; 250 to 300 dead; 500 to 600 houses.

Pine-grove, Minn., next station southward of Hinckley, 500 inhabitants; 50 dead.

Mission Creek, next station of Hinckley on the St. Paul and Duluth railroad; 10 dead.

Sandstone Junction, Minn., next station north of Hinckley, on the St. Paul and Duluth road; 25 dead.

Sandstone, second station north of Hinckley, on the Eastern Minnesota, 24 dead.

Miller, Minn., near Hinckley, off railroad line; dead unknown.

Shell Lake, Barronett, Granite Lake, Cumberland, Pineville, Constance and Forest City, lumber towns in Wisconsin, between Chippewa Falls and Superior, and Spooner, Wis., were partly destroyed.

The number of dead brought to Hinckley continues to swell, and will reach at least 400, if not 500, in Hinckley and neighboring towns. Eighteen bodies were found at once. Rev. Knudsen of the Hinckley Presbyterian church, Rev. Father Burke, and Rev. William Wilkinson of Minneapolis, conducted impressive services.

LABOR DAY AT WASHINGTON.

General Observance at the National Headquarters—The Law in the Case.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Monday being Labor day, all the government departments and public offices were closed, as were a great many stores and public places. The labor organizations paraded and spent the day at a park in the outskirts. The act marking the first Monday in September a legal holiday was approved by the president June 28 last and is as follows:

"Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the first Monday of September in each year, being the day celebrated and known as labor's holiday, is hereby made a legal holiday, to all intendments and purposes in the same manner as Christmas, the first day of January, the twenty-second day of February, the thirtieth day of May, and the Fourth of July, are now made by law public holidays."

Minneapolis Raising Relief.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 4.—All day long the leading citizens of Minneapolis have been at work arranging for the relief of the fire sufferers, and the work Monday night was well under way. A carload of food and clothing will be shipped to Pine City Tuesday morning, and other relief as fast as it can be arranged. Already the cash contributions amount to over $2,000. The Firemen's Relief association raised $1,000, and the police will be similarly generous. Resolutions have been passed by the business men, which will be sent to James M. Root, the engineer of the unfortunate St. Paul & Duluth train, as the fourth of July, now made by law public holidays."

Bald Robbery.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 4.—At exactly noon Monday thieves entered the Wabash ticket office by tearing off the iron bars from the windows and secured $1,000 in cash from the safe, which was left open. Several boxes of silver were taken.

There were a hundred people around the depot at the time, but the only witness to the theft was a deaf and dumb woman who was waiting for a train.

Bastened His Own Death.

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Sept. 4.—John Haskett, aged 32, a prominent business man of Stranahan, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head Monday morning. He had been sick with consumption for about two years.

Raised by the President.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 4.—Monday morning the directors of the Pittsburgh baseball club released A. C. Buckenberger, who has had charge of the team for three years past. Catcher Connie Mack was selected to manage the club.

Collection Bureau Fails.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 4.—O. H. Stapleton, who has been running a collection bureau here for several years, resigned Monday. His assets are estimated at $4,000, but the liabilities are not yet known.

Prof. Veitch Dead.

EDINBURGH, Sept. 4.—Prof. John Veitch, professor of Logic at Glasgow university, died Monday, aged 65 years, near this city. He was the author of several poetical works.

The Plague Over.

HONGKONG, Sept. 4.—The port of Hongkong has been officially declared free of the plague.

Twenty Miles of Flames.

RUSSELL CITY, Pa., Sept. 4.—The woods are on fire on both sides of this place, and the fires extend over an area of twenty miles. A large gang of men are fighting the flames and digging trenches to prevent the fire from spreading to the oil and gas field in the vicinity.

Killed While Scouting.

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 4.—W. C. Langdon and W. Lee, switchmen, while scuffling on the side of an engine fell out and ran over. Langdon was killed and Lee fatally injured.

Fire at Keweenaw, Ind.

KEWENAU, Ind., Sept. 4.—Fire Monday morning originated in some barns in Grumpp's Valley barn, entirely destroying the barn, owned by Bailey & Sons, and the contents, including ten horses and buggies. Ellerson's storehouse, with $5,000 in storage, was wholly burned. Ellerson's wagon factory and five adjoining buildings were licked up by the flames. The entire loss is $10,000, with an insurance on the barn and storagehouse of $4,000 each. The other parties had no insurance. This heavy loss is due to the fact that the town had no fire engine.

Forest Fires at Norway, Mich.

NORWAY, Mich., Sept. 4.—Forest fires have been racing for several days, and Sunday the flames encircled this city. Several hundred men are assisting the fire department to extinguish the flames. It is impossible to see more than 30 rods on account of the dense smoke.

To Hit His Death.

PETERSBURG, Ind., Sept. 4.—Joseph Lienhart, a brewer, at Tell City, in pushing open the window shutter, fell into the boiler, dislodging the engineer. A plug was blown out of the boiler, disabling the launch.

Corbett Jackson Money Up.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 4.—President Clark, of the Union Pacific, has confirmed the report that the Union Pacific receivers have decided to pay the overplus interest on the Utah & Northern first mortgage bonds, amounting to $154,700, and on the Utah & Northern extension bonds, amounting to $34,370.

Growing Weaker.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 4.—Reports from Stowe House Sunday night state that the count of Paris is growing weaker. It is believed that the end is near.

Forest Fires at Norway, Mich.

PETERSBURG, Ind., Sept. 4.—Joseph Lienhart, a brewer, at Tell City, in pushing open the window shutter, fell from the third-story and was instantly killed.

Evidences of prosperity are seen east, west, north, and south.

Levi P. Morton is willing to accept the Republican nomination for Governor of New York.

If the President should declare that "there is a God in Israel" it would make atheists out of a majority of the Republican party.

It is now said that the friends of Kolb in Alabama have abandoned their intention of contesting the governorship, and will run him for Congress.

5,000 negroes, members of the International Migration Society, will soon leave for Liberia, the Government of that country having offered each immigrant twenty-five acres of land and agricultural implements.

Hon. Wm. L. Wilson has been renominated for Congress by the Democrats of his district. The convention was the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in the State. His reception was more than an ovation.

The passage of the tariff bill has caused a revival in the wool trade, notwithstanding the dire predictions of the Republicans as to the passage of the free wool provision. The people are rapidly learning to take the Republican predictions at opposites.

The first bloodshed as a result of the candidacy of Col. Breckinridge was reported from outside of the district. John P. King, of Fayette county, and a strong Breckinridge man, killed George Cook in Clark county, because the latter questioned the character of the women who attended the Breckinridge meetings.

The importance of having at the head of the Treasury Department a man thoroughly familiar with the intricacies of tariff laws is shown in the promptness with which Secretary Carlisle explains away the apparent inconsistencies and impracticalities of the new tariff law which are now puzzling many of the Collectors of Customs.

Col. Charles Denby, Minister to China, is desirous of resigning and having his son appointed to the office. Mr. Charles Denby, Jr., his son, has been Secretary of the Legation during his father's term of nine years, and is said to be proficient in the Chinese language, as well as popular at the court of the Emperor. Secretary Gresham is an old friend of the elder Denby, and it is thought he will make the appointment.

Republican Senator Leaves the Party.

Senator Jones, who has served 20 years as Republican U. S. Senator from Nevada, and whose present term will expire in 1897, has announced that he is no longer a Republican. He is an able man and has long been considered a standard authority on the silver question. He has had enough of Republicanism to convince him.

Notwithstanding the combination of the Populist and Republicans and their claims of certain victory, the Democratic State ticket was elected in Arkansas by a largely increased majority last Monday. The straws are showing which way the wind is blowing.

Business is already beginning to revive in the gas belt. The Diamond Plate Glass factory at Kokomo, Ind., working 1,400 men is now operating day and night and Sundays, turning out more glass than at any period in its history. The Great Western Pottery Company, another large glass consumer, located there, is operating at its full capacity.

One of the howlers about Democratic hostility to pensioners is Thos. A. Davis, a Republican editor at Maysville. This Democratic administration has just granted him a pension. Will he be just enough to quit his vapors? We fear not. He is of that partisan crowd of calamity howlers whose mission is to talk anti-Democratic in the bitterest terms and without regard for truth or justice.

A dispatch from Birmingham states that an industrial revival of the most pronounced proportions has struck Alabama since the passage of the Tariff Bill and the settlement of the miners' strike. Furnaces that have been idle for a year are being "blown in," and the iron trade is reviving. More coal is being mined in the Birmingham district than at any time during the past twelve months.

Ex-Speaker Reed divides the country into two sections, the North and the South. He says the South is peopled with fools and laggards and the North with men of ability and business sense. It may be easy for the North to agree with him, but here in Kentucky and in other Southern states it is pretty hard to swallow. The statement was made in the course of a Republican speech. It is a sample of his argument(?)

A party of coal men from the North West have gone up the Big Sandy Valley, under the guidance of John C. C. Mayo, that prince of Big Sandy hustlers, and C. K. Lawrence our active, but modest townsmen. This party is composed of some of the largest coal operators of Chicago and the larger cities of the Northwest, principally St. Paul, Minneapolis and West Superior. They are here making a complete examination of the resources of the Big Sandy and with the above named gentlemen to guide them, they will not fail to be favorably impressed.

Both were in the city this week and are confident that it cannot be long till the development of the Big Sandy territory is assured. Ashland News.

Fourth-Class Postmasters In Luck.

Hereafter fourth-class postmasters will have another source of revenue to add to the many that now holds in the smaller settlements. He now can act as a notary public for persons and witnesses in pensions cases only, and can charge the pensioner, not exceeding twenty-five cents, for each voucher to which he affixes the seal of his office. The new authority and emoluments in the village postmaster sprung from an act approved on the 23d inst., which requires, empowers and authorizes them to administer any and all oaths required to be made by pensioners and their witnesses in the execution of their vouchers with like effect and force as officers having a seal, and such postmaster shall affix the stamp of his office to his signature to such vouchers.

The Mt. Sterling Advocate says in regard to the proposed railroad from Morehead through Morgan county, to Caney:

Capt. Brosius talked to the people of Morgan county last week in regard to the building of a road from Morehead by way of West Liberty to Caney. The company has decided to build the road, and Morgan county will be asked to meet her subscription which will be promptly done. Mr. Brosius says his company will give $100,000 to any company that will extend the line to S. A. from Rothwell, and this amount with $50,000, which could be given by Montgomery and others along the proposed line ought to stimulate the C. & O. people to take up the matter. Our people should be in earnest and bring the matter promptly before Mr. Ingalls.

The importance of having at the head of the Treasury Department a man thoroughly familiar with the intricacies of tariff laws is shown in the promptness with which Secretary Carlisle explains away the apparent inconsistencies and impracticalities of the new tariff law which are now puzzling many of the Collectors of Customs.

Col. Charles Denby, Minister to Farmers, Read this Plain Talk From a Brother.

CAT RIDGE, KY.—I have a brother in all fair means to demonstrate to your readers that the distress of the agriculturist is the result of unfair legislation by the Republican party. All that I have said was said with a firm conviction resulting from honest search into many facts which are matters of record and history.

I have a few notes of record that I want to submit to my brothers in fairness, and then I shall ask of you, Mr. Editor, no further space for the thoughts or efforts of COAL BLAST.

See what Mr. Wells, Special Commissioner under President Grant to investigate the practicability of reducing taxes says. In his report in speaking of the farmer: "He raises his wheat and other products under a tariff, which, without affording any sufficient compensation, unnecessarily increases the cost of his tools, his clothing, his fuel, his fencing and his shelter." So you, my Republican friends, find your own commissioner pleading for a reduction of taxes that we may be fairly dealt with. See in another part of his report what he says, and to show you that these words are the words of the much known David A. Wells, I refer you to page 2006, Congressional Globe, 1869:

"Wheat produced under these circumstances costs a great deal more than it does in countries free from such embarrassments, but it does not sell for more. On the contrary, it has to compete in the market with wheat produced by the so-called 'pauper labor' of Europe, and returns to the farmer no more than the price of real pauper labor in America. Nor does it cheer the grower of wheat to reflect that while he suffers from a depreciated currency, and competes with the stable conditions, metallic values, cheap materials, and cheaper labor of other countries, contributing at the same time his share to the public revenues, he also makes much heavier contributions on his clothing, iron, lumber, coal, salt, and the like, not for revenue, but for the profit of industries more favored than his own, that they may be screened from the competition to which he is forced to submit."

Notice if you please what that great(?) and distinguished(?) Republican, Mr. Blair, says in debate in the U. S. Senate on the question of increasing the taxes or reducing them as Mr. Wells had advised: "Nor is there anything new in all this." Mr. Blair thus admits the truth of the allegation. Now, my farming friends, if Mr. Wells has told the truth in saying that our products are sold in a foreign country at a price to compete with the pauper labor of that country can it be otherwise than true that the American farmer is getting no more for his labor than are the "pauper labor" of Europe? In other words, if our wheat must be sold for the same price that theirs is sold for, do we get any more for our labor than they do? Then is not the American farmer working for the same wages that are the so-called pauper labor of Europe?

See what the Committee on Finance of the Fifty-first Congress says: "The competition in wheat growing has been developed in India, South America, Austria, and in the British possessions in North America is likely to make unprofitable the production of this cereal for exportation by our people." Why could not these artful dodgers have said unprofitable to the American farmer; as they as well as every one knows that the price of our wheat at home is what the same wheat will bring abroad, adding the price of transporting it.

Now, why is it that we cannot produce wheat at a profit? Because the cost of producing our wheat is not, as is true of manufactured goods, the basis of the selling price. The cost of farm products, as I said in a previous article, does not govern the market for said products; much less having a big protective tax to assist in forcing the market up.

My friends, please study a little these dazzling figures. We had, according to Mr. Dodge, an attorney of the Agricultural Department in 1890, nine million people employed upon the farms of this country. These 9,000,000 farmers are to-day supporting a nation of about 65,000,000 of people; and yet according to the Republican doctrine of a home market it would take something like as many more months to consume the amount of our surplus wheat that has to find its foreign market, using as a basis 4 bushels as did Mr. Dodge.

Then can these artful dodgers blind the eyes of the American farmer as they have heretofore done, until with all our improved machinery we cannot produce wheat for less money than a country that yet plows with a forged stick?

Mr. Editor, I have not conveyed my full thoughts upon this subject and will withdraw my pledge in the first of this article.

LITTLE BLAINE.

EDITOR NEWS:—If we knew that anybody read our last letter, we would tell what we promised concerning a certain candidate who six months ago would not deign to speak to us, but is now ready to grasp our horny hands, and even kiss our dirty-faced babes. Did you say to tell it? Yes? Well, what for? Better wait until you find out who the candidate is, for when he reads this his pride bump will decrease so suddenly that his best friends will not know him. Well, you seem to be anxious to hear, and we are anxious to tell you.

In the first place we think the gentleman is sadly mistaken if he thinks we are a soft-shelled, weak-kneed, back-boneless family of bipeds that can't tell true friendship from a bowl of campaign soup. The time is coming and is now, when the people of Lawrence county are able to distinguish between a Judas kiss and a friendly smile. Do not think that we condemn hand-shaking and friendly words when they are expressions of a true and heartfelt love and friendship, but we do detest, we do abominate, we do hate that despicable, contemptible half-heartedness that only prompts a face to smile when its wearer wants an office. In the second place, we have no faith in the friendship of a person who could never take time to ask forgiveness for injuries bestowed, until he actually needed our help. We do not believe in "Death bed repentance." And in the third place, we think the gentleman will have to bring a better recommendation than the one now under consideration before he can get a job in our county.

No names have been used yet. Can you guess whom we are talking about? Now if some candidate gets mad and plants his big guns and opens fire on the people of Little Blaine, let him shoot, for he will never find fragments of "J. etc." on the battle field.

No school this week on account of the teachers' institute.

No sickness in our district, and nobody anxious, except for a Democratic victory—not anxious about it, but for its culmination. J. ETC.

A Neighbor Candidate.

As announced elsewhere, Dr. L. P. V. Williams, of Morehead,

Rowan county, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner in the Third Kentucky district. The Doctor is a young man yet, is a practicing physician, and a man that stands high among the people of Rowan county, among whom he has resided for several years past.

We are informed that he was born of Democratic parentage, and has always been a Democrat in political principles; that he has been mild in requesting honors of his party, but has always carried the party banner to victory when nominated. He represented Bath and tional Convention. He asks an earnest consideration of his can-candidacy by the people of the Third district.—EX.

Webb, &c., a judgment was given on the mandamus, and an order issued to the lower court to release the plaintiffs from the Sheriff's bond. Divorces from their partners in life were granted to Sam U. Kelley, Maggie Adkins, Helen Loar and G. W. Lemings. A number of judgments have been rendered.

The grand jury adjourned last Saturday, having examined 137 witnesses. 71 true bills were found as follows: 19 carrying concealed weapons; 13 malicious mischief; 14 breach of the peace; 5 selling spirituous liquors; 4 furnishing spirituous liquors on election day; 3 grand larceny; 2 assault and battery; 2 unlawfully practicing medicine; 2 obscene language on railroad coach; 2 disturbing a congregation; 2 racing horse on public highway; 2 petit larceny; 3 unlawfully taking and using property of another; 1 keeping saloon open on Sunday; 1 selling spirits to a minor; 1 shooting at another in sudden heat and passion; 1 shooting at another in sudden affray; 1 detaining a woman against her will; 1 breaking into a store house; 1 wilful murder; 1 public nuisance; 1 concealing the birth of a child; 1 burglary.

Encouragement for Tobacco.

H. Feitman, Jr., representing the Morris House, a tobacco warehouse of Cincinnati, spent several days of this week in this vicinity investigating the tobacco crops. He expresses himself as agreeably surprised and highly pleased over the prospects of this year's crop and especially in regard to the future of our county and our neighboring territory across the river for tobacco raising. We are being heard of out in the world.

Ben Stephens and Mart Borders, two young men living on Georges Creek, renewed an old family grudge last Monday and in the fight Borders was severely stabbed in the back. The wound is deep and serious.

In allowing the tariff bill to become a law without his signature, the Cincinnati Post says the following:

In his characteristic letter to Congressman Catchings, Mr. Cleveland fully, and it may be said satisfactorily, explains his action.

There are two points in this communication that stand out prominently, and are the keynotes to the whole, viz.: the necessity for a tariff law, however crude, imperfect and unsatisfactory it might be, to supersede the McKinley law, and the frank and manly admission by the writer that he does not claim to be better than the masses of his party.

In all this tariff muddle—and it has been a muddle—no one has charged President Cleveland with inconsistency. Nor can the charge be fairly made now that the bill has become a law minus his autograph. Indeed, history will prove that Grover Cleveland has been the most sincere tariff reformer of the whole Democratic Administration, Democratic Senate and Democratic House of Representatives.

POLITICAL FRACAS.

One Man Killed and Four Wounded.

The fight between Wilson and Cauden forces in West Virginia has been growing hotter and hotter until in some sections it has reached fever heat. This is especially the case in Wayne, our neighbor county. Wilson spoke at the mouth of Trace Tuesday evening to a large crowd, composed largely of factious having differences of long standing. At the close of his speech Wilson drove away and U. S. Marshal S. S. Vinson took the stand for a brief reply. This incensed some of the Wilsonites, who started an effort to prevent Vinson from speaking. The attempt was met with resistance from the Vinson men, and from the use of rocks and clubs the participants soon began to use revolvers. A great number of shots were fired, resulting in the killing of James Frazell, and the wounding of Tobe Ferguson, Bob Frazier and Bob Bailey. Sam Ferguson was not engaged in the row, but was found on the roadside asleep and was struck in the face with a rock. Neither of the injured parties is seriously hurt. Frazell was not taking part in the row, but was in a conveyance starting for home. The ball struck him in the breast near the heart and passed entirely through. He lived about 12 hours. It is a deplorable affair.

The primary which is causing all the trouble will take place to-morrow. The feeling is so intense that a speaking and a disturbance almost always go together.

The Gang Routed.

The band of robbers arrested in Johnson county recently for robbing old man Caudell met with positive treatment at the hands of the court.

George Pace plead not guilty, but the jury decided otherwise and imposed their sentence of four years in the penitentiary. Garfield Arnett confessed and got three years at the Capital. Lee Yates and Henry Crane, the leaders, are reposing in jail waiting for bail. Hollbrook and Adams are out on $1,000 bond. The latter turned State's evidence and told the whole story. The members bound themselves together by an oath. They had planned a number of robberies for the future.

They want elections free from all suspicion, and any effort at trickery, whether successful or unsuccessful, is odious to them.

What prompted the r. e. c. j. to meddle with the list? What has he to do with such matters anyway?

Perhaps he feels that it is near enough the County Judgeship to be entitled to a hand in it, but the majority of the people "don't think!"

They want elections free from all suspicion, and any effort at trickery, whether successful or unsuccessful, is odious to them.

It is very noticeable that the r. e. c. j. did not explain why he was so much interested in the selection of officers, and what his objections were to men removed from the list selected openly. "He certainly has denied by implication" that they are not "good, upright and honorable citizens," and that he was not willing to trust his interests with them. His action implies that he expected to gain an advantage over his opponent by substituting those names. We are glad to know, however, that the reputations of the men warrant the belief that they think more of their oath than of the interests of any candidate.

We want a County Judge who will leave partisanship out of the courts.

If this is not plain enough we will try again.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Through the medium of his paper the Republican candidate for County Judge again speaks of the election-officer matter to which we have twice referred, and taking his article literally it seems that he has not caught the drift of our remarks; therefore it is necessary to go into detail further than was expected.

He thinks we have attacked the officers of election, and that we have denied "by implication" that they are "all good, upright and honorable citizens." Now, we have done neither. There is nothing in our utterances which can be so construed. Our attacks were directed entirely at the suspicious, selfish and partisan manipulation in connection with the list of election officers.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

KENTUCKY STATE NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The closing of Congress Tuesday was about as quiet and uninteresting as can be imagined. It is most of the time, however, when the violent Knights of Pythias, who crowded the galleries, most of them to see Congress, were seen for the first time, that session would have been more interesting. The session would have been more interesting, however, if the result, because it was a surprise at the result, because it had brought eight out of medicines from New York to me.

Mr. JOHN D. HARRIS died a few days since at her home in Brandenburg. She was the wife of the present representative from Mead county in the legislature, and was a most excellent woman.

A. J. Jacobs has been appointed postmaster at Wesleyville in place of Hiriam Davis, who resigned.

HUGH B. WHIGER, of Bowling Green, and Miss Hallie Blues, of St. Louis, who is summering at Bowling Green with her mother, eloped.

JUDGE OWENS has just rendered a decision knocking out an ordinance against gaming, recently passed by the city council, of Owensboro.

THE Shelby News tells a six-foot tall tale story, and says it readers need not swallow it unless they want to.

After a considerable row which lasted some time over the location of the Danville post office, the department at Washington has decided not to move.

The building now will be improved against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Passages issued to Kentuckians a few days ago, original—William Johnson, Maxwell, Daviess county; Thomas A.
Davis, Mayville, Mason county; Restoration—David Kitchen, Kilgore, Boyd county; Mexican war survivors, increase—Daniel Duggins, Athens, Payne-ette county.

NATHAN JACKSON, who killed Jesse Coleman, near Pembroke, Christian county, in June, 1891, was arrested by Maxwell, the other day, and brought to Frankfort to stand trial at the September term of the Christian circuit court.

The circumstances of the killing were that Coleman seized Jackson's sister as they were returning from a picnic, and killed her as there is breath in the—rascal's body."

Cross went to church with Ashley's daughter Sunday and kissed her. She reported the matter to her father and the murder resulted. A posse is in pursuit of the Ashleys and if captured it is likely that they will be lynched.

DAVID OLDHAM, while washing dishes under a walnut tree, near Red House, was badly injured by lightning.

He was at the time with a party of seven threshers and he was the only one struck.

A huge tent, 100 by 130 feet, will be erected for the Mills revival meeting to be held at Frankfort in September.

An annex will be attached for a choir of 150 voices, and the whole will seat

3,000 people.

A north-bound freight was neared Danville one of the heavy iron shfts that propel the drive wheels of the locomotive came loose on one end, flung itself into the back of the cab.
Engineer John Lyons of Somers, and Firemen John Durkin, of Shelsby City, narrowly escaped being killed.

HON. G. P. GULLION, who represented Carroll and Gallatin counties in the last legislature, died at his home near Worthville, or Bright's disease.

WHITMAN COULD NOT MAKE AN

TOWN MARSHAL THOMAS MORRIS OF DAN-SODD, shot and seriously, if not fatally, wounded a youth named O'Brien, by which he will reach 1,000.

Inauguration ceremonies will mark the laying in October next of the cornerstone of the monument to be erected by the Women's Confederate association of Kentucky to the memory of the Kentucky volunteers who died fighting for the lost cause.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the parents and all the members of the family, and when they shall die by reason of death, may still they are submissive to the decrees of Him who doeth all things well.

May the endearment of this little child be enough to cause the father and mother to reflect and realize their relation to it and heaven, and may they ever be ready to greet their dear babe when the time for their departure shall come. In this life we meet her no more—a sorrowful thought, but we rejoice in our Savior, that "beyond this land of parting" we shall meet her again and hear her voice as it mingleth with the Heavenly choir.

We do not believe that God wills the death of an innocent babe, yet if it forms an inseparable tie that shall ever exist between it and the father and mother, who so regretted to part with their loved one. But still they are submissive to the decrees of Him who doeth all things well.
